

Can I Use a Credit Monitoring Service Other Than www.100pfcreditcheck.com?

If you're curious or unsure about what credit monitoring service to use during the credit repair process, then this article is for you!

www.100pfcreditcheck.com is our preferred credit monitoring service, since mortgage companies, auto lenders, and credit card companies use the FICO scoring model.

However, www.creditchecktotal.com or www.privacyguard.com, may be used if absolutely necessary.

We don't recommend Credit Karma since their credit scores are based on the Vantage scoring model which does not match FICO.

Therefore, many consider Credit Karma's scores to be inaccurate since in comparison to FICO, they are typically off by 20 to 25 points.

Still need help? Visit Accelerator Week 1 DIY Credit Repair

Tags: What are other credit monitoring services available, Is there other credit monitoring services, What monitoring service to use, Is Credit Karma good to use, Help me find other credit monitoring services, What credit monitoring does 100PF recommend